How can you be reached to book you for a modeling gig?

I do all my own bookings and communication. I prefer email or direct message. I tend to take a professional email more seriously in general.

Who do you look up to in the modeling industry?

The model I look up to personally is Alexis Ren. Not only was she homeschooled her whole life like me, but she overcame a bunch of obstacles to be where she is today. Her modeling story is a very inspiring one.

Do you feel there's a difference between the traditional model and social media models?

Yes! But this is a good thing. I feel like social media models have an amazing chance to brand themselves and support brands they personally agree with. Not only that, we have the chance to make more of a difference to girls (and guys) that may look up to us. We are provided a platform to be able to interact with our fans hands on.

Do you think social media makes it easier to become a model?

I wouldn't say easier. I feel like it opens doors that wouldn't normally be there. But since technology makes it so everyone can do this if they want, sometimes it's harder.

Have you dated a female? Do you date often?

No, I am straight. I've never dated a girl. I like to go on dates occasionally if I meet somebody that intrigues me.

What qualities do you look for in a guy?

I love a good personality. Dating now a days is very difficult. But it doesn't have to be. Qualities I look for can be anything from being down for anything new, the want to have a good time. Having an optimistic outlook. The love of adventure mixed with a bit of self confidence, self love and the love to travel.

What was the best date you've been on?

One of my favorite dates was an all day thing. We went to a brand new beach I've never been to before. We climbed to the top of the rock and jumped off of it. I would've never done it on my own. Then we got all dressed up and went to watch a horse polo game. After that we went to get dinner and watch the sunset.

What made the date special?

What I loved about the date was the fact that we were doing something new, exciting and adventurous. It wasn't so much about staring at each other across the table or actually trying to get to know one another. It is the most special date I've ever had so far.

Do you enjoy traveling?

I love traveling. Ever since I was young I used to watch Rick Steve's Europe and dream about the day where I could walk around myself and see all of the places that he would talk about. Since then I have taken almost every opportunity to travel when opportunity arises.

Where have you traveled to so far?

I've been to almost everywhere in Florida since that's where I'm from, Tennessee, Puerto Rico, New York, Hawaii Oahu, Maui.

Where would you like to travel to?

I plan to be traveling to California this summer. Next year I am planning a Europe trip. This is only the beginning of all of the travel places I want to see.

What would you like to say to your new fans?

I would like to say to my new fans, old fans and friends; That I just want everyone to believe in themselves and believe that they can do whatever it may be that they dream to be, it reflects in a lot of my work and my personal posts, and I direct my messages mainly towards young women but the message still applies to men. I want everyone to be able to live their happiest life and have the courage to make those choices that could change your life in a better way.

Who do you look up to in the modeling industry?
Tyra Banks and Naomi Campbell.

What would you like to accomplish as a new model?

I would like to connect with a lot more businesses and expand my reach. I would also like to improve my modeling skills every time I have a photoshoot. Progression is key.

As a model do you feel there is a difference between the traditional model and social media models?

Yes, because they're not entirely the same. In my opinion, social media models aren't trained so they perform based off experience or research. Traditional models in my opinion are trained and fit in a certain criteria. However, social media does make it a lot easier for models to gain exposure because you can share post multiple times, add hashtags, and do shout outs.
